Mission Statement

Our mission is to promote a culture of life by improving the physical, spiritual and social health of the community. In doing so, we strive to offer the highest quality of compassionate, personalized medical care to all of our patients and clients.

Our ethical guideposts are traditional Christian teachings as set forth by the Catholic Church. We seek to promote and to protect the sanctity of life from the moment of conception until the time of natural death. We acknowledge the dignity of all people and support the basic building block of society, the family.

In supporting life and respecting God's design for human procreation, we offer instruction in the very effective form of natural planning called the Creighton Model of Fertility Care. We also offer NaPro Technology treatments which are aimed at correcting underlying defects in the female reproductive system.

Because of our ethical and moral foundations, we do not prescribe or refer for abortion, contraception, sterilization procedures or euthanasia. We only prescribe erectile devices to men married to women.

We realize that all people may not agree with our mission or our ethical beliefs and we respect their right to disagree. Our refusal to provide certain services that are widely available elsewhere is not intended to be a judgement of others on our part. Rather, this is simply what we are able to offer in good conscience.

I have had an opportunity to review the mission statement.
